

Workshop Chair

“Design processes can be chaotic. The path to the moment of clarity – namely the final product – often leads through a forest of doubt and disorder. Among growing piles of model foam, dust, cardboard, wood and coffee you find a surprisingly creative place – sometimes to produce a needle it takes a haystack. Workshop Chair’s design is deliberately simple, almost archetypical, giving it a quiet, clean strength. The frame of solid oregon pine harmoniously blends in with the seat and back made of laminated hardwood veneer, thereby eliciting a light yet robust expression.”
